Turning knowledge into action

We help NGOs, educational institutions and public-interest partners turn reliable knowledge into methods, tools, skills and lasting capacity for action. We combine science communication and information quality with technology, media production, organisational development and change implementation.

Knowledge and information quality

- Science communication and research
- Media literacy and fact-checking
- Countering disinformation
- Climate education and source quality

Technology, media and tools

- Podcasts and audio/video production
- Digital publishing and e-learning
- AI and digital tools in education
- Technical implementation and dissemination

Organisations, skills and change

- NGO capacity building and train-the-trainer
- Leadership, cooperation and decision clarity
- Change design and implementation
- Pressure, burnout and organisational crisis

What we bring to partnerships
